In making his report of the Executive Board, he made mention of the progress being made, yet he said "As we come into the dawn of a New Association Year, we should set our moral goals, our spirituals, our financial goals to meet the challenge. Come and let us still ourselves and go up and possess the land we are able."

The Moderator gave a brief sketch of each department and thanked each for its continued support.

The Moderator Recommendations:

1. That the churches strive more earnestly to win souls to Christ.

2. That churches everywhere work with Employment Agencies to help find work for the unemployed and better pay. Also that each member of each church Register and Vote in every election.

3. That the pastor and members encourage worthy young men to give themselves to the ministry.

4. That the church encourage every member to give one dollar per year for the Association Mission, Shaw University, and Central Orphanage.

5. That all church members in the Wake Association share in the 100-year history making activity in everyway to help make the project a success.

6. That the entire membership of this Association attend and participate in the Baptist Centennial in Raleigh, August 14-18, 1967.

7. That the proposed budget for the Association in 1967-1968 be as follows:

g. That the Amount of each church be recorded (see report).

h. That a mid-Year Association be held the fifth Sunday in March, 1968, at a church which we be invited.

Mrs. Annie M. Evans of the First Baptist Church, Fayetteville, North Carolina came forth with greetings to the association. She directed her message to the Mission Women. She commended the Mission Sisters for their splendid reports and stated they are not playing house but are working.

She continued her message by stating and I quote: "This World in which we live is a world of sin, difficulty, danger, unjust, false accusations, wars and starvation, Mission workers should work to help overcome these problems. Missionaries should be able to overcome these problems. Missionaries should be able to overcome these situations if not something is wrong. Lust and greed add to the problem of the world. There are hungry people in a world of plenty, hungry for spiritual and physical food." She also pointed out that this age need "God" a plan for better brotherhood; a Hymn Book instead of a bank book; equipment, missionaries need to be equipped with tools to erase some of the world's problems; Teachers, teachers of righteousness to spread God's word like a blanket. God must be in the picture. He cannot be left out. Christians must wake up and to His will.

The world is growing more pagan every year. We must bring souls face to face with Christ. We must meet him at the cross. Christians must not segregate themselves. Do we have our missionary program organized? What are we doing? What do we need to do? and what are we planning to do? Have we met Jesus at the well? Christ does not need us when we don't know him. If we have the everlasting spunk it will help us to do God's work. If you meet the man at the well there is a spring of everlasting water flowing and we will work and not play house. Brighten the corner where you are, keep God in Picture. It may not be at the Battle Front but I'll go where you want me to go."

Her message was challenging and inspiring.

"Leaning on the Everlasting Arms" followed the spiritual and dynamic message given by Mrs. Evans.

MID-YEAR SESSION

WOMAN'S AUXILIARY

The Mid-Year Session of the Wake Association, The Woman's Auxiliary and the Association Union held jointly with the First Baptist Church, Fuquay-Varina, North Carolina, the Reverend N. A. Trice, Pastor, March 30, 31, 1968. The Theme: "The Largest Stewardship."

March 31, 1968

The Mid-Year Session of The Woman's Auxiliary met with the Wake Association and the Association Union at the First Baptist Church, Fuquay-Varina, North Carolina, the Reverend N. A. Trice, Pastor, and began its part of the services by singing a hymn rendered by the Saint Matthew's Choir. Remarks by our President, Mrs. E. M. Trice, followed. She expressed thanks to God for making it possible for everyone's presence. Thanks was given to the many auxiliaries that were present for their fine cooperation and support. The singing of the song "Every Day Every Hour" by the Saint Matthew Choir followed the President's remarks.

Responsive Reading was led by the Vice President, Mrs. M. P. Taylor. Song "My Faith Looks Up To Thee" followed the reading then Scripture and prayer.

Echoes from the field was then acknowledged. Missionaries from different circles reported progress in their circle. Many interesting projects are being initiated in many of the circles. Among the circles represented were Wake Baptist Grove, New Providence Baptist, Saint Matthew Seniors, Pleasant Grove, Baptist Grove Seniors, Bethlehem, First Baptist, Fuquay, Wakefield Seniors, Riley Hill, Good Hope Seniors, Springfield, Saint Matthew Juniors, Elevation, Good Hope Juniors, Jones Hill Seniors, Wendell Baptist, First Baptist, Zebulon, Baptist Grove Juniors, New Bethel, Roseville; Mount Pleasant Seniors and Juniors, Wakefield Juniors and First Baptist, Franklinton. All circles gave favorable reports. Each one is doing a great work toward the up building of God's Kingdom and working toward "The Larger Stewardship," our theme.

"I Am Thine" followed the reports from the Missionaries.

The speaker, Mrs. Leona Daniels, for the occasion was introduced by our President, Mrs. E. M. Trice. Mrs. Daniels, Elementary supervisor of Wake County School System, a member of the Martin Street Baptist Church where she served as president of the Woman's Auxiliary for some time and Sunday School Teacher based her message on the theme, "The Larger Stewardship." She stated at the outset that no soldier was ever trained by the mere study of the manual, but by practicing his drill. Not the hearers of the law, but the doers are justified before God. We must be going forward doing the will of God. She stated and I quote: "Stewardship implies caretaking not ownership. Stewardship involves responsibility to others. We should give of our means to the church that others might have the message of Christ."

The first responsibility which we as women should be good stewards of is the Stewardship of Health. It is important that a person do all he can to preserve his health, for without good health he will not be of much service to him or the rest of humanity. Preserving ones good health is a matter of stewardship for health and strengh were given to us by the maker and it is intended that we make the best uses of them.

The Stewardship of conversation involves good Christian conversation in the home, in the community, and when we meet each other. This make living conditions more favorable. When problems have to be solved, and we need someone to give guidance, when life tends to become boresome, flat, unattractive good Christians talk with someone we know adds richness to the situation, and helps to point us to God who can solve our problems whatever they may be. Speak words of peace. Blessed is the peacemaker for he shall see God.

The Stewardship of Talents, Luke 19:11-27 reminds us that the Saviour will come, and call us to account for the use of all that he has committed unto us. In this parable the pound is taken away from the unfaithful servant and given to the ablest of the group. Let the Man or Woman who is ables have what has been wasted. Those who are faithful are all commended and rewarded.

Stewardship of money — Let us remember that a steward is one who takes care of that which belongs to another, and when we speak of the stewardship of money we imply that money does not actually belong to us, but that it has been placed in our custody for safe keeping and efficient handling. But thou shalt remember the Lord thy God: for it is He that giveth thee the power of to get wealth. It is necessary for well meaning Christians to have money to finance those things that are beneficial to humanity. The material interests of God's program has to be advanced through the aid of finance, and this is a matter of stewardship, for in proportion as we use our money to advance the cause of God we are fulfilling our responsibility as Christians and good stewards.

Work well done leads to higher work, therefore let us remember to be careful of our stewardship of health, conversation, our talents, time and money. True effort and success will come from intense earnestness. The world is a great workshop. Every duty performed as faithfully discharged is a step on God's ladder of promotion."

The message was very inspiring, dynamic and spiritually delivered.

"Calling Today," was sung following the message. Mrs. Trice Thanked Mrs. Daniel for such a fine message. An offering was taken. "He Will Carry You Through" and "Leaning on The Everlasting Arms" were sung during the offering. Offertory Prayer concluded this part of the program.

The Afternoon Session consist of a short program rendered by the Youth.

Music was rendered by the Wake Baptist Grove Junior Choir. A reading and a Youth Forum made up the program. Youths from different churches participated. Mrs. Mials directed the Program. Dwight Tyler, Dorothy Jiles, Willa McLean, Edith Mills were participants in the discussion, which was enlightening and enjoyable.
